Self-Insurance Training presents UPDATE 2019

This is a mandatory training. Date Added.

The Washington State Department of Labor and Industries (L&I) Self-Insurance Section will revise a number of Washington Administrative Codes (WACs) effective July 1, 2019. L&I will provide training to help self-insurers prepare for the changes. Due to the significant changes to the WACs, this training is mandatory for all certified administrators.

These changes will provide:

- Better communication to workers;
- Greater certainty for employers; and
- L&I as an insurance regulator and arbiter of disputes, rather than a re-adjudicator of claims decisions.

Learn about new forms and letter templates, the new comprehensive core curriculum, new standards for penalties, and new certification requirements for out-of-state claim managers.

The training will also provide a refresher on Independent Medical Examinations and Loss of Earning Power.

This is an all-day course and is mandatory training for certified administrators. Please register early to ensure you can take the training before the WAC changes become effective.

UPDATE 2019 - mandatory training. Date added.
