Types of protected leave

! What types of complaints can L&I accept under protected leave laws? An employee whose employer does not allow employees to take leave as provided under the following laws may file a complaint with L&I.

The Washington Family Care Act allows use of paid leave to care for sick family members. The eligibility requirement provides that if an employee works for an employer with a paid-leave policy (sick, vacation, certain employer-provided short-term disability plans, or other paid time off), the employee is entitled to use choice of paid leave to care for sick family, including:

- Children under 18 with a health condition that requires supervision or treatment.
- Spouse, registered domestic partner, parent, parent-in-law, or grandparent with a serious or emergency health condition.
- Adult son or daughter incapable of self-care due to a disability.

The Washington Family Leave Act (FLA) covers certain individuals including registered domestic partners who work for an employer of 50 or more employees for those employees who have worked for at least 1,250 hours over the previous 12 months. It also covers women who are entitled to time off for pregnancy disability in addition to 12 weeks for other leave purposes.

Military Spouses May Take Leave for Deployment. Spouses or registered domestic partners of military personnel who receive notice to deploy or who are on leave from deployment during times of military conflict may take a total of 15 days leave per deployment. This law does not apply to leave after the deployment ends. The spouse employee requesting this leave must have been employed for an average of 20 or more hours per week.

Victims of Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault, or Stalking may take leave. Victims and their family members are allowed to take reasonable leave from work for legal or law-enforcement assistance, medical treatment, or counseling.

How to file your protected leave complaint:

- Complete and sign the attached form. Use a sheet of paper if you need more space to explain your complaint.
- Attach any documents, pay statements, letters, or other information you have that is about your request for leave, including employer correspondence, if any.
- Mail the form to the Department of Labor & Industries, Employment Standards Program, P O Box 44510, Olympia, WA 98504-4510 or bring it to L&I at 7273 Linderson Way SW, Tumwater, WA 98501-5414.

! IMPORTANT: If you are moving or have a new telephone number let us know right away. Call 360-902-4930 or 1-866-219-7321. If we can't contact you, it may delay the investigation.

After we receive your complaint, we will assign an Industrial Relations Agent to investigate your complaint. Due to the nature of leave protection laws, it will be necessary that L&I tells your employer that you filed a complaint.
