

How to file and pay your workers' compensation

Workers' compensation

Filing options

There are two ways to file and pay your workers' compensation:

- QuickFile: No log in required.
- Claim & Account Center: Log in required, use for supplemental reporting and bulk filing.

File with QuickFile

1. Go to Lni.wa.gov/QuickFile.
2. Enter your Account ID and Unified Business Identifier (UBI).
3. Enter your workers' actual hours, even if there were zero, within the correct risk classes for the quarter that just ended.
4. Select payment method (eCheck or credit/debit card) and pay your premium online.

File with Claim & Account Center

1. Go to Lni.wa.gov/Secure.
2. Enter your username and password.
3. Enter your workers' actual hours, even if there were zero, within the correct risk classes for the quarter that just ended.
 - Supplemental reports will require different information (example: businesses performing drywall will report square footage installed or taped).
4. Select payment method (eCheck or credit/debit card) and pay your premium online.

Pay by check

Send your check and payment voucher to:

Quarter four (Oct. – Dec.)	Jan. 31

Late payment calculator

Find out how much a late payment will cost by calculating the penalty and interest for late reports or premiums with our calculator at: Lni.wa.gov/LatePaymentCalculator.

Have an accountant or payroll filer?

Account access

If you need to give account access to an accountant or payroll filer, complete and return an authorization form available at Lni.wa.gov/go/F242-431-000.

Quarterly updates

Don't forget to send your accountant or payroll filer copies of all L&I correspondence regarding quarterly filing, rates, and risk classes.
