

Become an L&I Electrical Inspector

Bring your skills and talent to a team of dedicated professionals. Secure your future employment and retirement.

Keep Washington safe and working.

Washington State Department of Labor & Industries

Elevator Program

Make it a career

The Washington State Department of Labor & Industries is looking for electrical inspectors. If you want to help ensure electrical safety in Washington, help licensed electrical contractors and certified electricians through combatting the “underground economy,” then this is the job for you.

It’s a challenging position examining a wide variety of interesting and complex electrical installations. As an inspector, you will regularly see the newest and most advanced electrical technology.

See details about benefits inside...

A closer look at the benefits

We provide a family-friendly package of pay, benefits, and workplace enhancements. Your total compensation package includes health insurance; retirement; competitive salary; paid time off including vacation, sick leave, and holidays; and an outstanding work environment.

Health insurance

There are health plan options covering medical, dental, and vision to meet your family’s needs. Washington’s employee premiums make high-quality coverage affordable. Your health insurance package alone can be worth more than $17,000.

Retirement

The state offers an excellent retirement plan that includes employer contribution. Employees may also participate in the Deferred Compensation Program for a tax-deferred retirement investment.

For more information visit: www.drs.wa.gov/education.

Salary

Salary varies depending upon your experience, position, and location. The salary for an Electrical Inspector starts at $69,264 to $82,344 annually*.

For more information visit: <https://ofm.wa.gov/state-human-resources/compensation-job-classes/job-classes-and-salaries>.
Search: Electrical Construction Inspector.

Paid time off

These valuable benefits increase the total compensation package by more than $12,000.

- 10 paid holidays
- 14–25 paid vacation days per year, depending on length of employment
- 12 days sick leave per year
- Two personal days

Total Compensation Package

My daughter had over $100,000 in medical bills for an emergency surgery. I was only responsible for about $1,000. I had sick leave and was able to be there for my family.

I am never leaving this place!

— Robert Chase
L&I Electrical Inspector

* Salaries and Benefits are subject to change based on annual legislation, cost of living, negotiation, etc...and are approximations based on skill, knowledge, and ability.

An outstanding work environment

Washington State Department of Labor & Industries values its employees and strives to create an outstanding work environment, including:

- Embracing diversity
- Commute trip reduction options
- Work/life balance
- Ergonomic work stations
- Work vehicle suited to employee and job needs
- Shared leave programs
- Family Leave Act.

Make a career

L&I is a great place to make a career:

- In-training plan to give you all the tools needed to be successful
- The latest in continuing education and training by the most knowledgeable professionals
- Other technical, safety, information and skills training, all on agency time
- College tuition reimbursement
- Ability to transfer around the state within the agency

Opportunities and open positions are available throughout the state.

L&I Locations

Whether you prefer the big city or small town living there is likely an L&I office location for you. Our offices are located throughout Washington State. See www.Lni.wa.gov/Offices for the office nearest you.

How to apply

1. Visit www.Lni.wa.gov/Jobs and select a position. There are inspectors needed at locations across the state.
2. Create an online profile, and follow the step-by-step process.
3. Don't forget your letter of interest and a copy of your EL01 certificate.
4. Click on the green "APPLY" button at the top of the announcement.

Need more information? Contact:

Talent Management — Office of Human Resources

Department of Labor & Industries

7273 Linderson Way SW

Tumwater WA 98501

360-902-5700

Jobs@Lni.wa.gov

Upon request, foreign language support and formats for persons with disabilities are available. Call 1-800-547-8367. TDD users, call 711. L&I is an equal opportunity employer.

PUBLICATION F500-141-000 [09-2020]