This policy is designed to provide general information in regard to the current opinions of the Department of Labor & Industries on the subject matter covered. This policy is intended as a guide in the interpretation and application of the relevant statutes, regulations, and policies, and may not be applicable to all situations. This policy does not replace applicable RCW or WAC standards. If additional clarification is required, the Program Manager for Apprenticeship should be consulted.

Registered apprenticeship programs that use facilities to conduct RSI classes, shall request a safety and health consultation by DOSH (Division of Safety and Health) on a biennial basis (one every two years), as directed by the Washington State Apprenticeship and Training Council.

Furthermore, any time an apprentice has a recordable incident during unpaid, supervised RSI, which results in an industrial insurance claim, a DOSH Safety and Health Consultant will be notified and asked to evaluate the occurrence.
